

THE J & S Siding CO. featuring Steel Log Seamless Siding

Today, the J & S Siding Company is proud to tell you about a beautiful, durable, and lasting product by EMCO Building Products...
 Their signature Weatheredwood™ Steel Siding.

This high-gauge steel features all the cost and maintenance-free benefits of steel siding combined with the visual appeal that comes with traditional logs.

The two-toned ceramic-hybrid finish offers a gorgeous pallet of stories you can tell with your home. The finish is strong, UV protected and resists fading, blistering, and chipping.

This product, installed with the craftsmanship of The J & S Siding Company, will tell a story that lasts lifetimes.

Colors of actual product may vary from what you see printed here. Weatheredwood™ is the trademarked property of EMCO Building Products.

EMCO's products use the world's most recycled material. Easily collected and separated, 95 to 100% of steel is recycled globally and put back to great use.

By choosing steel, you're not only choosing a long lasting and great looking product, but an environmentally responsible one.
